BETHEL, MAINE, THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1980

Locke Mills

Mrs. John Mills, Corres.
The Community Club will have no meeting in July.

The town offers its sincerest sympathy to the family of Lettie Ford who died last week at Ledgeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barbour and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barbour Jr., Hartland, Vt., were Monday afternoon visitors at the home of the elder Mrs. Barbour's distant cousin, Mrs. John Mills.

David Hathaway left Monday for Fort Dix, N. J., where he will be stationed during boot training.

Mr. and Mrs. Al McMorrow and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pegnamie, Holbrook, Mass., were here Saturday to attend Lettie Ford's funeral. They also were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills were in Norway, Wednesday afternoon where they visited Mrs. Luella Mills at the Stephens Memorial Hospital and Verne Mills at the Andrews Nursing Home. Verne remains about the same but Mrs. Mills is improving at the Norway hospital.

The Greenwood Fire Dept held their regular meeting July 1. Due to the vacation period few members attended. The next meeting will be a training session Tuesday, July 15. The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be July 28 in order to finalize plans for the flea market that week end, Aug. 2.

The Greenwood Fireman's Auxiliary met Monday evening, a week early due to the long holiday week end, for their regular meeting. Several projects were discussed, the coming flea market, (see elsewhere about getting your table), the firemen's auction, and the Senior Citizens dinner. It was voted to buy a slide and tape presentation of the principles of smoke detectors, to help in the drive to get smoke detectors in the homes of our senior citizens. Following the business meeting Mrs. Diana Howe was given a surprise birthday shower. Mrs. Barbara Dunham made and decorated the cake. Cookies, chips and dip and lemonade were also served. Mrs. Howe received gifts of money, disposable diapers and a cute piggy bank by the members.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills attended the funeral Friday of Mrs. Helen Mills at the Andrews funeral home and the visiting hours of Mrs. Lettie Ford that same evening.

Our town offers its sincerest sympathy to the family of Harold Tibbetts who died unexpectedly this week.

WOODSMAN'S FIELD DAY TO AGAIN BE FEATURE OF MOLLYCOKETT DAY

The Fifth Annual Woodsmen's Field Day has been announced by the Bethel Rotary Club. This event is run in conjunction with Bethel's Annual Mollycokett Day Festival. The competition will be held starting at noon on the Bethel Common on Saturday, July 19. A field of 24 leading woodsmen will be competing for a total of 19 cash prizes. The overall winner will receive a cash prize of $250, the beautiful "Woodsmen of the Year" trophy and a photo with Miss Mollycokett 1980.

The competition consists of six separate events. These events include tree falling, cross cut, log rolling, log throwing, log rolling and log pole cutting.

Competition is limited to woodsmen who derive their main income from the timberlands of Maine and New Hampshire and who live and work within 50 miles of Bethel.

Only standard logging saws and equipment are permitted. Judging will be by leading local loggers and representatives of the Evans Notch District of the White Mountain National Forest.

This event has long been recognized as a premier event of Bethel's summer recreational season. In past years spectators have arrived from all New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Washington, D. C., and the eastern Canadian provinces. This year promises even greater crowds with the abundance of available gasoline and fine weather. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The board of directors of M. S. A. D. #44 held a regular meeting in the library at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

The directors gave final approval to a policy change regarding student suspension in drug related incidents. The change provides for a 10-day suspension for first offenses in drug-related cases instead of the previous five days.

Mrs. Linda Yates of Newry was approved as a Title I teacher at the Telstar Middle School. Mrs. Gemma Morrill-Dreher was named as Library/Audio Visual Aide with assignment to Telstar High/Middle School for the next school year.

The following were approved as teaching principals for the 1980-81 school year: Woodstock/Locke Mills Elementary Schools, Mrs. Eleanor Tracy; Andover Elementary School, Mrs. Joyce Morgan; Ethel Bisbee School, Mrs. Nancy Davis.

A Restructured Day Proposal for 1980-81 was approved for the elementary grades by the directors. Under the proposal students at the elementary level will be dismissed early on specified days so that teachers may work on curriculum development. Days designated—continued on Page Eight

Two college students, Rich Enkel and Karen Beckler are participating in programs at the Bethel Area Health Center as a part of their academic programs. Rich, a resident of Florida, is an undergraduate student at Dartmouth College enrolled in the Health Experience Learning Program. This allows students to gain practical experience in the health field and to assess their interest in and attitude for this type of career.

A physics major at Dartmouth, Rich comes to the BAHC with considerable experience in community and social action programs. During the coming 6 months, he will work on various health promotion projects with a particular emphasis on hearing conservation and industrial health.

Karen, a lifelong resident of Norridgewock, is a senior at the University of Maine at Farmington. She is studying community health education and is participating in BAHC as part of her field experience. Karen is currently helping to develop and implement an exercise program designed to prevent heart disease; a booklet on common medical problems; and patient education for selected problems.

These students are being supervised by Gerry O'Connor, physician assistant at the health center. These projects are greatly aided by student participation and allow the health center to increase the scope of its services to area residents.

Mollycokett Day Observance to Feature Various Events - Sat. & Sun., July 19-20

Bethel's Mollycokett Day celebration is to be held on Saturday and Sunday, July 19 and 20, with a wide variety of events planned according to the overall sponsors of the annual observance, the Bethel Lions Club. The theme of the celebration this year is to be "1980 - The Year of the Family." The parade will especially emphasize this theme, under the direction of Lion Charles Farrar.

The Bethel Rotary Club will be hosting the popular Woodsmen's Competition. This is not professional competition but is restricted to those woodsmen who make their living in woods work, pulp, mill-wood or long lumber. The competition will start at noon on Saturday on the Bethel Common with events being tree felling, bucksaw, woodsplitting, cross-cut, log ripping, log rolling, and log throwing. The bicycle race will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in front of the Casco Bank. This is always a very exciting event.

An "Old Fashion Chicken Barbecue" is scheduled to begin at noon on Saturday under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club of Bethel, on the Common.

A fashion show is being sponsored by the Bethel where models will display fashions on the lawn. On the Common will be arts and crafts, food booths, games for the children and the Bethel Library book sale.

At 9:30 Saturday evening, the Blue Hill Pyrotechnics, Inc. crew will be setting off the fireworks from the Bethel Inn golf course continued on Page Eight Several from here attended the sale at North Lovell Saturday. A large crowd was there.

A nice quiet fourth here. I heard a few firecrackers.

She is presented in the permanent collections of Frye Museum, Seattle, Wash.; The Art Students League; APSFA Alliance; Grumbacher's and private collections, here and abroad. She has received numerous awards including prizes from the National Art Club (N. Y. C.); N. J. Watercolor Society; Moore College of Art, and has been included in the travelling exhibitions of the American Watercolor Society. Miss Geiser has been a self-supporting professional artist since 1958. She teaches private classes in watercolor painting; has been on the faculty of Princeton Art Association since 1960 and conducts workshops, and demonstrations throughout the east. With equal competence she moves through a repertoire of flowers, forests and marine scenes.

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

We had lovely weather for the three day July 4 week end. Friday was just beautiful. We did have showers late Saturday, but not long enough to ruin one's day, then Sunday a clear day; but the wind did blow. This made lovely weather for picking strawberries or weeding as the breeze kept the mosquitoes away as well as not having it too hot. The 4th, Frank, George and I rode up to Rangeley. Along the road were huge bouquets of flowers made up of daisies, Indian paintbrush and buttercups. Sometimes other flowers would be mixed in and so often ferns would be in the background. I was sorry to see the trees dying. For miles one could see the tops of trees turning brown from the different insects that have infested the trees. We got back Saturday afternoon. Sunday my sister, Iva, and husband, Don Holden, visited as well as my parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, all of Norway.

Saturday our son, Frankie, Grace and Teresa, joined us at Frank's sister's, Roberta and husband Eddie Peavey's, and Grammie Gibson. Their place is between Oquossoc and Rangeley and has a breathtaking view of Rangeley Lake and a background of mountains.

Elaine Hutchins, Shilo and Misty, and Marjorie Conner celebrated the 4th of July with Mr. and Mrs. Parker Conner of Scarborough. Lobsters and clams were enjoyed. Joining them were Esther and Jennifer Buck and Harold Conner.

Sunday, July 6, Elaine Hutchins, Misty and Shilo, Marjorie Conner and Cathie Heath enjoyed a picnic lunch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Lovejoy, West Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Robb, Peterborough, Ont., visited Mrs. Evelyn Hilborn the last of June. They visited various areas around the coast. The Robbs left June 27 and Mrs. Hilborn's brother, Norman Davis and Miss Brenda Rutherford of Hamilton, Ont., arrived June 28. They all went to the coast and Mr. Davis and Miss Rutherford left July 1. Rev. Larson called in while the Robbs were visiting. Barbarees and lobster dinners were enjoyed while Mrs. Hilborn's guests were here.

A very attractive rail fence has been put up by Ricky Angevine in front of Mrs. Hilborn's house.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert and Randy were at their camp on Lake Thompson July 3 to 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy left the morning of July 4 for Dracont, Mass., to visit her brother, Paul Greenberg and family. They returned July 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith Jr., and Andy had supper July 4 at the Chick-A-Dee in Turner.

Stanley Brown was on vacation last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roy of Buckfield, July 4.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson had for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Benson of Poland, and Andy Benson.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters took Mrs. Marion Rodgers of Lovell and Olive Blaisdell of Somerville, Mass., to the Northland, Berlin, N. H., to celebrate Mrs. Rodgers' birthday.

Lester Butters took Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham to Lewiston Monday. Mr. Lapham had an appointment with the eye doctor.

Brenda Barnhill of Florida is staying with her uncle, Victor Coolidge, and family.

July
The summer harvest day begun with cloudless dawn and flaming sun;
Ripe grain the sickle flashes through;
The sweep of scythes in morning dew;
The nooning underneath the trees
Made cool by sea or mountain breeze;
The thundershower, the clearing sky,
And sunset splendor of July.

Laski, Mrs. Barbara Belloff converged upon this hill. After the feed some went in the woods trying to "get lost" — but they all came back O. K. This all happened June 29.

The Poland families had a reunion at the Union Church this week. Dorothy Curtis was home from the west and Evelyn came home. Andrea Wing went back with Dorothy and Earlyn, to Evelyn's home for a visit.

Mrs. Mary Brown has gone to visit her daughter in Livermore. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, Jeff and Debra Walker went to several beaches Tuesday on the coast. They called on Frank's aunt, Beryl Hilton, while in York Beach.

Jackie and Neil Tibbetts are spending some time with their grandmother, Mrs. Esther Davis. The children went on a camping trip over the week end with their father, Roger Tibbetts and other friends.

Esther Davis invited Olive Davis to ride to Freeport with her where she picked up Velma Davis and brought her back for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks took Olive Davis and three West Paris ladies, Lyndell and Arlene Farr and Marion Mayhew to Pleasant Pond Grange, West Sumner, Wednesday evening where they enjoyed a ham supper and green peas with all the fixings before their C. W. A. meeting which was a big success.

Olive Davis spent the 4th of July in Bridgton, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews. They attended the parade after seeing Mark Andrews run in the marathon there.

About 50 Willing Workers and families met for a pot luck supper at the Union Church building on June 30. After supper Sayward Lamb showed his slides on Alaska which they took when in Alaska last year. They were very interesting.

Kay Mason visited friends in South Woodstock. Her two children were with her and will spend two weeks with their father, Junior Mason.

Florence Redding and daughter, Ruth, have been in the neighborhood visiting friends.

Olive Davis called on Nancy Mason and found her under the doctor's care. We hope she will get help before long.

Mrs. Frank Campbell and Debbie Walker were in Lewiston Tuesday shopping.

A wedding was solemnized at the Adventist Church June 29 at 2 o'clock for Leslye Thurlow and William Hewlett Jr. The reception was held at the Legion Home in West Paris afterwards.

Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor.

Mother Nature sure did a job on the trees and limbs around here Saturday night and Sunday. She took down several trees in the vicinity and put the power lines out for several hours Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lord took his sister Kay and went to Livermore Falls Sunday to visit their Dad, Walter Lord.

Several of the Herrick children spent Saturday and Sunday helping put the finishing touches on the Herrick home, here.

There is a strawberry festival at the vestry Tuesday night and there will be a second one on July 22 with a strawberry short cake special.

Clyde Stanton went to Raymond Sunday, to visit a cousin, Virgil Stanton, who he hadn't seen for many years.

Arlene Bean of Bethel, visited her mother, Jo Sanderson, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hensley of Weymouth, Mass., are spending ten days at their cottage and called on friends here, Thursday.

The whole Cooper family from Arlington, Mass., spent the week end at their summer home here. Oscar and Mary Andrews are getting right along on their new home just up the road from me. They have the second story up.

Don't forget the auction Saturday at Bob Wood's. It's to benefit the Stoneham Rescue Unit, which we all need badly. The Unit is always standing by at a minute's notice.

If anyone has any local news, it would be greatly appreciated. Call Jo—583-4038—thank you.

ROAD RACE AT GOULD

ON ALUMNI DAY, SEPT. 20
On Saturday, Sept. 20, Gould Academy will host the first Alumini Invitational Run as part of the school's Alumni Day activities.
Two races will be held that day,
a traditional 2.5 mile cross country race that will pit the 1980 Gould varsity cross country team against a larger team of past Gould Alumni made up of former runners beginning with the '60's, and those who have taken up more serious running since their graduation from the Academy. There will be no limit as to the number on each team, but traditional scoring of the cross country meet will be used to see if the "seasoned" runners can run (or outrun) the 1980 varsity team.

This race is the result of an idea conceived by Fred S. Judkins, II, a 1962 Gould graduate who was an outstanding runner at the school. Since graduating from Gould, Fred has kept up serious running, entering races throughout the state, and two years ago placing 138th in the prestigious Boston Marathon. He has written to all former Gould cross country runners beginning in 1960, and hopes there will be a large turnout for the initial event of what is hoped will be one of the annual highlights of Alumni Day.

The Academy team will be led this fall by senior Matt Isham of Albany (Maine) who placed 7th
in the State Class C Mile last spring, and who also has been participating in road races throughout the state this summer.

To encourage more participation,
a second race of 1.0 mile in length will be held for joggers and less serious runners. Children and wives of Gould alumni are welcome to enter this race, and all who finish either race will receive a special prize.

Alumni Day will be held on Saturday, Sept. 20, with special events planned for that day as well as for Sept. 19 and Sept. 21,
making this truly, Alumni Week End. Special class reunions for the classes ending in "0" and "5"
are planned, and events for all graduates will include the Lum-berman's Outdoor Breakfast, a special slide show about Gould and its graduates led by Dr. Stanley
Howe at the Bethel Historical Society, the Alumni Luncheon and Annual Meeting, a reception at Headmaster Donald W. Fudge's
home, and the Alumni banquet.

Gould graduates will receive information relating to this week end in the forthcoming Alumni Newsletter, which contains a special page about Alumni Day 1980.

will be one of the annual highlights of Alumni Day.

The Academy team will be led
this fall by senior Matt Isham of Albany (Maine) who placed 7th
in the State Class C Mile last
spring, and who also has been participating in road races throughout
the state this summer.

To encourage more participation,
a second race of 1.0 mile in length

who finish either race will receive
a special prize.

Alumni Day will be held on Saturday, Sept. 20, with special ev-

as for Sept. 19 and Sept. 21,
making this truly, Alumni Week

the classes ending in "0" and "5"
are planned, and events for all
graduates will include the Lum-

special slide show about Gould and
its graduates led by Dr. Stanley
Howe at the Bethel Historical So-

Annual Meeting, a reception at Headmaster Donald W. Fudge's
home, and the Alumni banquet.

HISTORICAL GLIMPSES OF
EAST BETHEL FEATURED
AT SOCIETY MEETING
Historical glimpses of East Bethel was the featured program held Thursday evening, July 3, at East Bethel during the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society.
A picnic on the lawn of the Alder River Grange Hall preceded the meeting, which was held in the hall.

President Catherine Newell announced that the film series as part of the Moses Mason Museum's summer program was already underway and that films would be shown each Wednesday afternoon during July at 4 p. m. Mrs. Newell also welcomed back Society Director Stanley Howe who had just returned after a month in Williamsburg, Va., attending the Seminar in Historical Administration offered annually by Colonial Williamsburg. The present also announced that next meeting will feature Dr. Michael Gramly of the Maine State Museum who will speak on pre-historic Indian sites on the Upper Androscoggin on Aug. 7.

Following the business meeting, a slide presentation was made by Society Director Stanley R. Howe.
Howe focused on the importance of East Bethel to the history of the town, stressing the fact that much of the early settlement was here and that many of the early settlers are buried in the Bartlett Cemetery, an 18th century cemetery in which the Society placed a marker in 1976 as part of the Bicentennial observance. The Director also cited East Bethel's contribution to the town's agricultural history, made possible by fine upland farms and the broad inter-valles below along the Androscoggin. Howe showed many slides of East Bethel homes, people and scenes from the past. He also paid tribute to the work of Society founder Eva Bean for her extensive research of East Bethel history much of which appeared in her book "East Bethel Road" which appeared in 1959.

MAINE ATTORNEY GENERAL ADVISES CONSUMERS OF NEW RIGHTS

Attorney General Richard S. Cohen advised consumers that July 3, 1980, was the effective date for four new pieces of consumer legislation recently passed by the Maine Legislature. The new laws afford consumers additional protection in the areas of charitable solicitation and automobile repair, provide new rights for settling grievances through Maine's small claims courts, and give new powers to the Bureau of Consumer Protection to investigate and resolve consumer credit reporting complaints.

"All four laws are helpful to consumers," Cohen said, "but only if they are aware of the new provisions and how to effectively use them. Consumers can expect to hear more from my office and the Bureau of Consumer Protection regarding information on these laws in the coming months," the Attorney General added.

One change occasioned by the new laws concerns charitable solicitations. The original Charitable Solicitations Act was passed in 1977 to better inform contributors to certain charities how their donations were being used.

The new amendments substantially tighten up the law, according to Attorney General Cohen. Considerably more detailed information must now be provided to the Secretary of State. For example, the registration statement to be filed must now indicate the percentage of each dollar spent on charitable purposes versus fund-raising and management.

The greatest change directly affecting consumers, however, the Attorney General said, is what they must be told over the phone when solicited. Fund raisers are already obligated to inform prospective contributors if less than 70% of their donation will go to the charity. Under the new law they will also be required to disclose the percentage of the total money raised that they will take as salary and expenses.

"Consumers will be better informed about how their money will be used," Cohen said. "They will be better able to decide if the costs associated with raising that money are acceptable to them."

The new Auto Repair Law is basically a "Disclosure Law," according to the Attorney General. All repair shops must now post in a prominent location a sign designating their hourly rate for repairs and notifying consumers they can establish a ceiling on the cost of repairs that cannot be exceeded without their prior approval. If the costs of repairs exceeds this limit without the consumer's permission, he is not liable for them.

The new law also gives consumers the right to inspect all replaced parts and keep any that do not have to be returned to the factory as part of a warranty claim procedure. In addition, no used, reconditioned or rebuilt parts may be used in repairing a car unless the consumer agrees prior to installation.

The law governing Maine's Small Claims Court underwent the most dramatic revision of all the new consumer laws. "The law basically streamlined the process and cleared up the ambiguities that existed under the prior law," Cohen said.

One of the changes in the Small Claims Law was to expand the court's jurisdiction, giving it the ability to hear a wider variety of cases. Previously the court was permitted to hear only cases involving money damages. With the new law the court can now hear cases where "equitable relief" is requested—cases where the plaintiff wants the court to order the defendant to do something such as properly repair a TV set that was not repaired correctly the first time.

Another major change involves speeding up the process by which successful parties collect their judgments. Problems involving the collection of judgments—collecting the money the court said was owed—were among the most common complaints cited by users of Small Claims Court. The new law attempts to alleviate the problem by providing incentives for the defendant to pay quickly.

One such incentive is that if the money owed is paid within a specified time established by the court, the judgment will not be recorded, with the case instead being listed as "no cause of action". Such a designation is important to defendants who want to maintain a "clean" credit rating. The other incentive provided by the law is that unless judgment is paid by the defendant within the specified time, the defendant will be automatically summoned back to court for a disclosure hearing. At a disclosure hearing the defendant is examined in open court as to all his financial assets from which the judgment can be paid. After the disclosure the judge will impose a payment plan which, if not adhered to by the defendant, could result in his being fined or imprisoned for contempt of court.

The maximum amount for which a person may sue was left unchanged by the Legislature at $800. The recommendations giving rise to the new bill were the product of an Ad Hoc Committee on Small Claims Court, convened by the Maine Supreme Court to study the subject.

The final law affecting consumers concerns new powers given to the Bureau of Consumer Protection to help consumers with credit report problems. A credit report is a financial and personal background report prepared about a particular individual to help certain lenders or insurers decide if they should do business with that person. Because such reports often contained erroneous, and hence harmful, information about individuals, the Maine Legislature enacted the Fair Credit Reporting Act to correct such abuses.

The amendment to the law gives the Bureau the right to investigate and take actions to resolve complaints about credit reporting practices. Specifically, the Bureau of Consumer Protection can now subpoena records, other documents, and witnesses to hearings designed to determine if the law, has been violated. If a practice is found to violate the law, the Bureau can issue a "cease and desist" order directing the violator to stop the practice. The Bureau can also obtain an "assurance of discontinuance" from an alleged violator in which the company promises not to engage further in the practice.

If a credit reporting firm knowingly violates the law or breaches an assurance of discontinuance, it faces a civil penalty of up to $5,000 under the new law. This penalty is in addition to any already available under existing statutes.

The bureau has also been directed by the Legislature to educate consumers about their rights regarding credit reporting agencies, which it plans to begin in the near future.

HHS GUIDE COMPARES PRICES OF 184 PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

The Department of Health and Human Services has published a free catalogue of comparative price information on prescription drugs for doctors and pharmacists in an effort to reduce the cost of drugs to consumers.

The catalogue is being mailed to 500,000 medical and osteopathic physicians, pharmacists and to consumers who have asked for it. The catalogue, developed by the department's Health Care Financing Administration, divides 184 of the most frequently prescribed drugs, plus aspirin and acetaminophen, a pain-killer, into 16 therapeutic categories such as analgesic and anti-infectives.

Under each category, the guide lists the generic and trade names for each drug, the marketer of the product, and the cost to the pharmacist for one day of therapy of each drug. Bar graphs show the daily therapy cost of each drug relative to other brands of the same drug.

The guide, expected to be updated every six months, will help physicians and pharmacists consider the cost of different drugs when they write or dispense prescriptions, the agency said. Doctors sometimes prescribe drugs without knowing prices, a practice which often results in higher priced medications being prescribed when equally effective quality drugs are available at lower costs.

About half of the drugs commonly prescribed in the United States are available from multiple sources—by both brand and generic names—and at widely varying prices. The remaining drugs are available from only one manufacturer.

Current statistics show that only 12% of written prescriptions specify the generic names of a drug. If 10% of physicians changed 1% of their prescriptions to lower priced drugs, that alone could amount to an annual savings to consumers of approximately $6 million, HCFA estimates. Savings can also be effected by pharmacists, who are allowed in 35 states to dispense lower priced generic drugs in place of brand name products without the consent of the physician unless the physician indicates that the patient needs the higher priced brand.

Individual copies of the guide may be obtained by writing the HHS Office of Public Affairs, Room 2411, JFK Building, Boston, Mass. 02203.

Many infants and young children who go to sleep with a bottle in their mouths may develop severe tooth decay. The problem is not the bottle, but what's in it. The sugar in milk, formula, fruit juices and sweet drinks cause the decay. The sweet liquid pools around the teeth during sleep—and keeps them bathed in sugar.

So give your baby the bottle during waking hours when the fluids are swallowed quickly. Children who need extra sucking at bedtime are satisfied with a bottle of plain water.

ANDROSCOGGIN VALLEY SWCD NAMED AS TOPS IN MAINE

The Androscoggin Valley Soil Water Conservation District (SWCD) won Maine's top honors in the 33rd annual Goodyear Conservation Awards Program.

The first place district, headquartered in Auburn, was selected by the state judging committee on the basis of its accomplishments in resource management, Robert Spear, President of the Maine Association of Conservation Districts (MACD), has announced.

The district was specifically cited for having "done the most with dollar value expenditure," despite its small budget, Spear said.

The competition is sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in cooperation with the National Association of Conservation Districts.

Gerald C. Twitchell and family, Turner, was chosen by the winning district as its outstanding cooperator. Twitchell and Glen W. Torrey, Auburn, district board member, will represent Androscoggin Valley SWCD on the grand prize tour, an expenses-paid, vacation-study tour to the Wigwam resort and Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Arizona, in December.

They will be joined by representatives of 52 other first place districts from throughout the United States.

In addition, plaques will be presented to the winning district and to the runner-up district at the summer meeting of the MACD on July 24 at the Sugarloaf Inn, Carabasset Valley. Outstanding cooperators with all participating districts also will be honored, Spear said.

York County Soil and Water Conservation District is the runner-up district in Maine. Manley Brackett, Limington, was named that district's outstanding cooperator.

EXERCISE GROUP TO FORM

A meeting was held at the Bethel Area Health Center on Wednesday, July 2, to discuss the development and implementation of an exercise program in the Bethel area. Bob Folsom, a faculty member at the University of Southern Maine, came to speak about his experiences as director of the Lifeline program in Portland. Lifeline is a health promotion project designed to prevent heart disease. A member of the program is first medically tested to determine which level of exercise is best, whether it be walking, jogging, or running. The program progresses at a slow pace and is designed to accommodate individual needs. A committee of local residents has been formed to determine the feasibility of a similar program in Bethel. Committee members include: John Gasser, Gerry O'Connor, Mary Ann O'Connor, Mike O'Donnell, Steve Kraus, Bob Crane, Garrett Bonnama, and Karen Becker.

Safety Tip of the Week

Boating and Water Safety

When boating, put on a life preserver before getting on board—and keep it on. If there is an accident, the preserver will not only keep you afloat, but it will enable you to assume the "HELP" posture. "HELP" posture lessens heat escape and helps you survive up to several hours in cold water. To get into the position, bring your arms tightly up to your chest and then raise your knees to your chest. Always keep your head above water; you can lose up to 80% of your body's heat by vigorous movement, so stay calm. Loss of body heat is a major factor in many drownings. Practice water safety procedures, and enjoy the recreational lakes with common sense and avoid obvious dangers.

WWI BARRACKS & AUXILIARY

#2943 MET JULY 2

The World War I Barracks and Auxiliary #2943 met at the Legion Hall, Vernon Street, for their regular meeting July 2. It was preceded by a picnic style dinner served by Leona Lurvey and Marjorie Cummings. There were 10 members seated at the table, decorated in keeping with Independence Day. The blessing was given by Chaplain Marjorie Cummings.

The Auxiliary's meeting opened at 1:30. By roll call five officers were absent. The chairs were filled by Doris Cornell as President; Adeline Dexter, Banner Bearer; Mary Bishop, Treasurer; Thelma Conant, Guard. Olive Head, Sunshine Chairman, was also absent, no report was given.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. The annual dues are now available for 1980-81. There are now 14 paid up members.

Hilda Donahue, Past President, gave the highlights of the State Convention held at the University of Maine-Farmington, June 5 and 6. Ten Auxiliary members and two Barracks members attended.

A yard sale will be held at the home of Selma Chapman on the Rumford Road (Newry Corner), July 25-26, from 10-4, anything goes. Also plans for a float for the parade on Mollycoddett Day, July 19. Volunteers for both events are needed.

The committees for Aug. 6 are Rose Taylor, Hilda Donahue and Doris Cornell. Each one is to bring their own lunch as it will be another picnic style affair. Independence Day was observed by two poems, "Happy Birthday," by Adeline Dexter; "Our 4th of July," by Bell Lavorgna; Let Us Not Forget Our Heritage, presented by Americanism Chairman Iola Forbes.

It was nice to have the members from South Paris in attendance: Thelma Conant, Bell Lavorgna, Bessie Pope, and Myra Stevens.

The blessing was given by Chaplain Marjorie Cummings.

The Auxiliary's meeting opened at 1:30. By roll call five officers were absent. The chairs were filled by Doris Cornell as President; Adeline Dexter, Banner Bearer; Mary Bishop, Treasurer; Thelma Conant, Guard. Olive Head, Sunshine Chairman, was also absent, no report was given.

Hilda Donahue, Past President, gave the highlights of the State Convention held at the University of Maine-Farmington, June 5 and 6. Ten Auxiliary members and two Barracks members attended.

A yard sale will be held at the home of Selma Chapman on the Rumford Road (Newry Corner), July 25-26, from 10-4, anything goes. Also plans for a float for the parade on Mollycoddett Day, July 19. Volunteers for both events are needed.

The committees for Aug. 6 are Rose Taylor, Hilda Donahue and Doris Cornell. Each one is to bring their own lunch as it will be an outdoor picnic style affair. Independence Day was observed by two poems, "Happy Birthday," by Adeline Dexter; "Our 4th of July," by Bell Lavorgna; Let Us Not Forget Our Heritage, presented by Americanism Chairman Iola Forbes.

It was nice to have the members from South Paris in attendance: Thelma Conant, Bell Lavorgna, Bessie Pope, and Myra Stevens.

SENATOR WILLIAM COHEN
From Washington

Two weeks ago the Canadian government announced increases in the amount of cod, haddock, and yellowtail flounder that Canadian fishermen may take from the disputed area of Georges Bank. This news has been greeted with concern by Maine fishermen and by the New England Congressional delegations.

Specifically, the Canadian government raised Georges Bank quotas on cod from 5,950 to 13,800 metric tons, the haddock quota from 6,800 to 10,500 metric tons, and the yellowtail flounder quota from zero to 2,500 metric tons. If this decision was made in an effort to prompt Senate ratification of the U. S.-Canadian fisheries treaty, I doubt that it will be successful. In fact, the Canadian move may prompt considerably more opposition to the treaty.

The goal of co-operative management of the fisheries on which both Canadian and American fishermen rely for a bountiful catch is wise. The guidelines for co-operative management agreed to in the proposed treaty, however, lack both wisdom and practicality. With the knowledge that this treaty will affect both the preservation of healthy fish populations on Georges Bank, and therefore, the economic livelihoods of hundreds of American and Canadian fishermen, it would be in the best interest of both countries to renegotiate the treaty. It would be most constructive if the treaty could be renegotiated in the absence of disruptive actions such as the one just made by the Canadian government.

Specifically the following points of the present treaty should be addressed as outstanding issues which require a faithful and lasting resolution.

First, there is the question of equitable treatment of New England fishermen and Canada's Maritime Province fishermen. As one diplomat has pointed out, fish cannot read treaties and are shamelessly indifferent to boundaries, so some trade-offs are inevitable in any fishing agreement.

However, equal opportunity to participate in the management of Georges Bank should not be subject to arbitrary agreement. As the treaty has been negotiated, Canada is given the opportunity to work as an equal partner in the management of fish stocks in undisputed American waters, although the United States has foregone such an equal partnership in managing species in undisputed Canadian waters.

Given a fish's disregard for national boundaries, this is an inequitable arrangement and one that is potentially damaging to Maine's fishermen. If Atlantic stocks are to be managed in both

Albany HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

Kathy Bennett, Corres.

A very cloudy and somewhat cool morning here in Albany. Sure wish the nights would warm up a little so the corn can grow.

Elna, Irving and Russ Hale were Saturday supper guests of Albert and Elna McAllister.

Billy Rich and son, Allen, of Hudson, N. H., called on Hugh and Edith Stearns to visit their grandmother, Laura Pinkham.

Recent callers at the Wardwell farm have been Helen and Linwood Ring, Edith and Harris Hathaway and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bumpus.

Recent callers at the Barton farm have been Roger and Yvette Barton and children, Frank Barton Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Graffam, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Freeman, Dick and I and the boys, Jon and Judy Jacobs.

Thursday Margaret and the boys went to the Drive-In in Bridgton. Saturday night Franklin and Margaret Barton, Roger and Yvette Barton, and Bernard and Alice Barton, went out to supper.

Callers here at K-D's Acres this last week have been Margaret Barton, Jeff Barton, Hugh Stearns, Mr. Wentworth, Chris and Elton Cole. Wednesday, Dave, Dan and Doug and I went to Lewiston with Chris and Elton Cole. Elton took the boys to the movies and Chris and I shopped.

Friday, the Bennett family attended a surprise birthday party for Russell Nutting in Limerick.

Sunday night supper guests were my folks, Eva and Forest Twitchell of Bryant Pond.

Many, many thanks to all who turned out to help clean the church kitchen. The first supper of the season at the Church will be tonight (Thursday), July 10, at six o'clock. There will also be an Albany Church meeting at the Church on Monday evening, at 7 p. m. All are urged to attend.

Sarah Andrews went to Range Pond on her birthday, July 4, for a party. Saturday she was at Taylor Pond Beach. Not many there because of the rain in the afternoon. On the way home she called on her daughter Shirley Corbett, in South Paris.

The woodchucks have eaten all of Sarah's garden which is very discouraging.

Have a good week everyone.

Canadian and American waters, they should be managed in full cooperation.

Second, the agreement requires U. S. fishermen to reduce their Georges Bank catch of pollack from 40% to 25%, while Canadians may increase their catch. Other such arrangements on other species could clearly place the New England fishing industry at a dire disadvantage vis-a-vis the Canadian industry.

Finally, the treaty would take away primary management responsibility from the New England Fisheries Management Council, eliminating New England's strongest voice.

Co-operative management should remain the goal of the United States and Canada. I believe the goal can be reached to the benefit of both countries.

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

The green grass, one of the most haunting fragrances, a special sweetness of new-hay was curling in the sun.

On high the Bob-o-links still hale the season and respond to its ecstasy.

Out in the cart-road, still so-called after many years of truck travel, we climbed the hill. The fields not yet mowed were beautiful with daisies and what would a summer be without them.

"In clans they settle along rural roadsides; Their cities they build far and fair. The ermine of monarchs and gold of a Midas For them are every day wear."

— Frank P. Fletcher

The daisy received its name from folklore because of its yellow center representing the sun and known as "day's-eye".

To many, since early times, the hills have been special places. Without them there would be no valleys. When at the top, the sky-bowl seems more immense and the valley wider.

Where could there be a more restful place to pick strawberries than here?

If our backs got to aching we stood and turned to the mountains. There they stood blue, massive, and purple brooding and unchanging. Then we looked down to our valley, a dimple on the face of the earth.

Resting now we picked more berries. They can even be smelled for there is too much sweetness to be hidden.

With dishes full we set out for home. Bees hummed, Bob-o-links sang, grass shimmered, insects buzzed, but we plodded on to Mosquito Lane where there can be no mastery of them until a hard frost quiets them for another year.

We have arrived into the month of real summer. July is the month of long days, late dusk, and leisure nights.

Dawn can be gauzy with tender mist, if you live by a pond or a river.

July can bring the roar of thunder and lightning, that slashes the sky and rumbles on shaking the hills and bringing water to the valley. Slay blue clouds pile up and come drifting with the thunderous accompaniment which breaks the oppressive heat and leaves the earth cool and fresh from having passed. Then come colorful clouds of evening, vivid sunlight, and the song of the west wind harping among the maple leaves. Some nights are cool like May, some reminding us of late August.

The fireflies are our stars as they blink their tiny lights? I like to watch them against the trees from my bedroom window, as they come down and spangle the night. They are truly a mystery and the night alone knows their secret.

Strawberries, later this year, but sun-warm and dew-sweet covered the top farm-field. We picked quarts and left many more. They hold the sweetness that is superior to all our native berries.

To reach the field from my house we took a short-cut through the Bulldozer Road. What a mistake! I have suffered from mosquito bites ever since.

After leaving those pests, we, Ruth and I, entered the fields greeted first by a flock of baby partridges. They were the size of a robin. Three flew from the grass, then two more, and finally the ball of fluff vanished over the wall to Mother. We wondered where she could be then we could hear her among the woodland lites.

Mr. and Mrs. David Holt were home for the week end.

At the Hayes Homestead there was a gathering on Sunday; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Waterhouse, Gorham; Mrs. Verna Libby, Falmouth; Mrs. Mary Libby and children, Rockland; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cole, Sebago; Mr. and Mrs. Ardel Hayes, Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hayes and family, West Paris; Mrs. Erwin Hayes and son, Hyde Park, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Spires and children of Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hazelton were callers at the Hayes Homestead in the evening on Sunday.

Ann Holt visited friends at Higgins Beach over the holiday week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis were in East Sumner on Saturday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis.

Our callers have been Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mundt, Bethel; Mrs. Lucy Bragg, son, Tommy, W. Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. Moses Swan, Bryant Pond; David and Sharon Holt.

Callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bentley, Auburn; Donald and Mildred Bowman, Lucy and Tommy Bragg.

Superintendent's Newsletter

Dr. Wayne F. Gersen
As Superintendent of Schools in S. A. D. #44, one of my primary goals for the coming year is to improve communications within the school district, and to improve communications between the school district and the general public.

In order to meet this goal, I plan to write a column, at least bi-weekly, addressing some of the issues faced by the school district, and highlighting some of the accomplishments achieved by school personnel.

Working in S. A. D. #44 for the past three years as Principal at Telstar Regional High School, I am certain that the Board of Directors, administrators, teachers, and other personnel in S. A. D. #44 are very much interested in increasing the public's participation in the educational process. All of us who work for S. A. D. #44—custodians, teachers, bus drivers, cafeteria personnel, administrators—work to make the school day a positive experience from the beginning to end. If we are successful, we like to hear words of encouragement. However, if we are failing in our mission, we need to know. If you have any specific concerns regarding a child enrolled in S. A. D. #44, please contact the school directly and talk with either the principal or the teacher. We all want to do the best job possible to serve the children of S. A. D. #44.

The Board of Directors serving S. A. D. #44, working with the Superintendent, sets the district policy and develops the budget. The Board has been elected to reflect your outlook on the schools. The Board is very willing to listen to their constituents and to discuss any issues they face. Listed below are the current Board of Directors for S. A. D. #44: Trudy Akers, Andover; John Brown, Bethel; Fred Burk, Newry; Tim Carter, Bethel; Lloyd Carver, Bethel; Louise Chapman, Greenwood; Harry Dresser, Bethel; Ruth Feeney, Bethel; Desda Fogg, Andover; John Haines, Greenwood; Darlene Hall, Andover; Paul Hillquist, Woodstock; John Laban, Bethel; Harry Swan, Greenwood; Jim Syko, Newry; Eva Twitchell, Woodstock; Sheryl Wilbur, Woodstock.

On the past Monday night at Board meeting, I asked the Board members to help me by offering suggestions for District wide goals for the coming school year. In the next two meetings, the Board will define four to six major goals for the year, which will help S. A. D. #44 administrators and district personnel to set their priorities for the coming year. Your suggestions for goals would be welcomed, as would suggestions for topics to be addressed in this newsletter. I hope that the parents and general public in S. A. D. #44 will begin to take an active role in the schools in this district.
